OCNI OVERVIEW

The Organization of Canadian Nuclear Industries (OCNI) is an association of more than 250 leading Canadian suppliers to the nuclear industry in both domestic and international markets. OCNI member companies employ over 15,000 highly skilled professionals across Canada who manufacture major equipment and components, and provide engineering services and support for CANDU and SMR technologies used in nuclear power plants worldwide.

Beyond the energy sector, OCNI companies are also committed to advancing the safe and responsible use of nuclear technology in various other fields, including medicine and industrial applications.

OCNI is the leading voice of Canada's nuclear supply chain, actively promoting the production of safe, clean, and reliable nuclear baseload electricity as a vital part of a balanced energy mix in Ontario. The organization also supports member companies in expanding their reach to global nuclear markets by fostering partnerships with local suppliers, plant designers, utilities, and government agencies.
